Who Should Attend?

Northwest Food & Beverage Manufacturers looking to improve operations and start or accelerate their Continuous Improvement journey.

Food Northwest's Expo and conference 2019 offers three days of nationally known speakers, industry leaders and educational experts sharing the latest trends and information, plus a convention floor filled with 450 vendors and suppliers. Most importantly, the Expo is a place for networking with colleagues and connecting with other Northwest F&B Manufacturers in OR, WA, ID; as well as other association members. Take advantage of your time and make key contacts, explore the latest innovations and participate in educational seminars.

MONDAY - JAN 14th

Productivity at the expense of Quality and Food Safety...NEVER!

Monday January 14th | 3pm | Main Stage

Historically, ensuring Food Safety and Quality has often been viewed separately from productivity gains and without a production system which drives focus appropriately, this siloed approach is the norm. Join Redzone's Sales Director Lawrence Green and Solutions Director Lance Olmsted as they explore the bond between productivity and food safety with a panel of Redzone community members.

Speakers:

Debbie Raddie
VP of Operations
Boardman Foods

Jeff Grohs
President and CEO Brucepac

Lawrence Green
Sales Director Redzone

Lance Olmsted
Solutions Director Redzone
